

PROMETHEUS X

To coincide with the studio's 10th anniversary milestone Christopher Boots carries the remnants of the past into the future through the evolution of one of our first and most seminal designs PROMETHEUS.

Through the marriage of cast bronze and the enduring gravitas of crystal quartz, PROMETHEUS X intertwines the three foundational pillars of the studio - narrative, material exploration and geological majesty. Within the shades of PROMETHEUS X's irregular bronze surface lies an elemental quality that is innately natural. The character of the crystal quartz harbours an ancient, unbreakable connection to earth eschewing time and dispelling any notion of trend. Scored into its surface is the narrative of the eponymous god, a homage through both design and materiality - Prometheus.
